Evidence.One ™

A new approach to data that prioritizes evidence, reduces legal spend, and clarifies legal decisions.

Evidence First

Ultimately, eDiscovery is about finding evidence. What separates us from everyone else is this: We find that evidence prior to review.

Better Decisions, Faster

Because you have access to concrete evidence earlier in the case life-cycle, it allows you to make better, more informed legal decisions, assign real value, negotiate from an informed position, and better plan the document review.

Unmatched Efficiency

Our combination of advanced AI & human expertise allows us to perform data analysis and document review with incredible efficiency, speed, and accuracy. This often results in seven figure cost savings in a single case.

Augmented, not Artificial
Our method isn't just based on tech. It's human expertise combined with technology.

Secure, Centralized Data
Eliminate redundancy, re-use attorney work product. Standardize case workflow.

35-55% Data Reductions
Prior to review, we can reliably eliminate between a third and half of all documents.

30-40% More Efficient Review
Our process typically achieves a thirty to forty percent increase in efficiency.
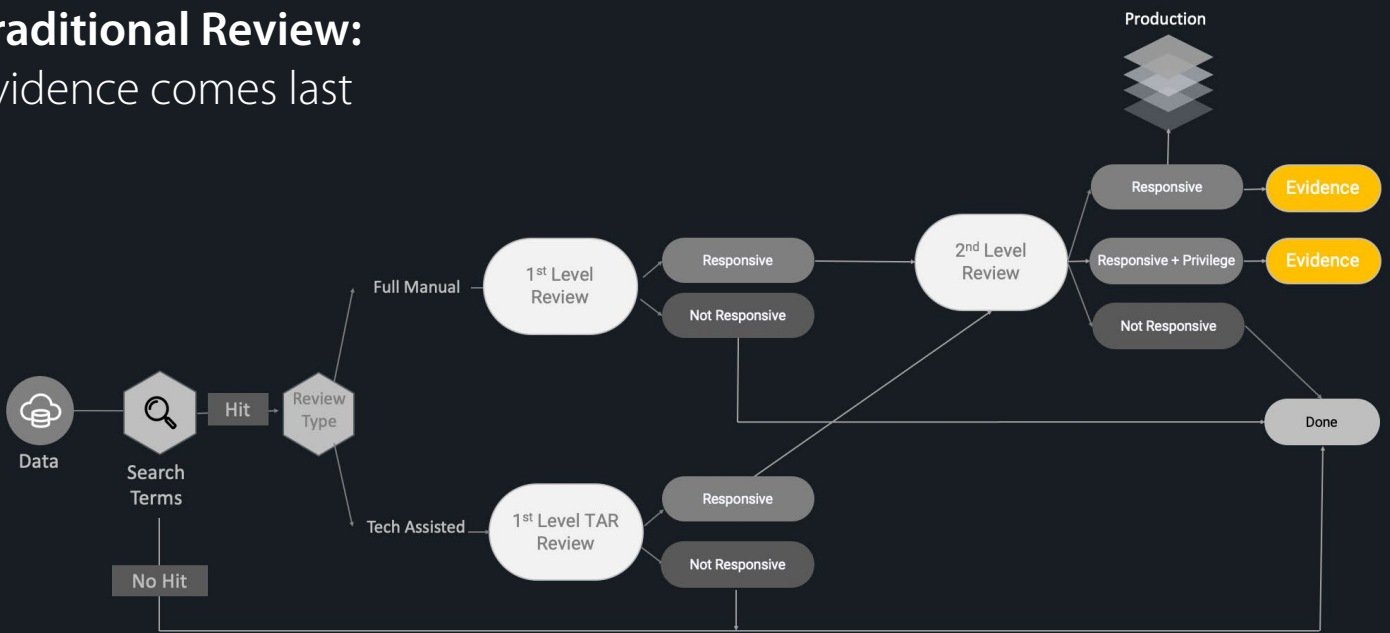

7 Figure Savings
In cases with larger document populations, our method translates to seven figure cost savings, with zero capital expenditure.

Corporate Counsel   Ai-Discovery Expert

Our radically simplified model prioritizes evidence.
Since we find it first, informed legal decisions can then be made based on concrete facts.

When looking for a needle in a haystack, bring a metal detector.

In eDiscovery, finding evidence is constantly referred to as the proverbial needle in a haystack. Using traditional methods, this metaphor is accurate. But our approach is different. Consider our Ai like a metal detector. We don't have to sift through the hay, we just go straight to the needle.

Additional Benefits

Budgetary Partner

With the Evidence.One workflow, our team acts as an extra check and balance against unnecessary spend, weighing each potential action against your budgetary constraints.

Centralize & Standardize

By centralizing all your legal data, we can apply the same workflow to every case, whether big or small, involving outside counsel or handled internally. This simplifies everything.

Multi-Modal Flexibility

Some cases require the most advanced technology available. Some don't. Our approach is always tailored to the specific requirements and budget of each case.

Data Security

Security is our business, and nothing is more secure than a single, SOC2 Type2 certified data center. You eliminate the main data headache and threat to security - moving it from place to place.

White Glove Service

Our eDiscovery team will work hand in hand with your corporate counsel to design the best workflow for your data. Once up and running, you'll have priority service every step of the way.
